STUDENTS

Each of us has taken a hand in making the 1968-1969 school year one that we will always remember. It has been a year of triumphant successes and heartbreaking disappointments. We have shown that Madison is one of the most outstanding schools – brought about by individual accomplishments, team efforts and class achievements.

Teachers and students have all been enriched from experiences in classes, clubs and organizations and are left with lasting impressions. The 1969 Montpelier has caught the hands of involvement in action at Madison this year.

Academics

By cooperation and diligence the students and the faculty of James Madison High School have been able to work together to learn and to create. This is evident in Madison's many academic departments. Students are presented with the opportunity of developing intellectual and physical skills through the intricacies of math and science, the exploration of the humanities, and the participation in athletics. Elective courses, such as home economics, shop, mechanical drawing and world literature, are offered to students wishing to develop particular skills. Many teachers have also devoted extra time and thought in order that students may participate in extra-curricular activities. Throughout the school year these teacher-student relationships continued.

ADMINISTRATION

Our principal, Mr. Shelton T. Belsches, and his administrative assistants have perhaps the most demanding task in James Madison High School – coordinating all of the many systems which form the integral complex, our school. Without the guiding hands of these dedicated people, Madison most assuredly would not be the efficiently functioning institution that it is.

These administrators make the job of running a school seem easy. For the average student does not perceive the immense amount of work which these people must cope with in their daily routine – distraught or demanding students, parents, and faculty members must be placated; forms and other paper work must be completed; and meetings must be scheduled and attended. Mr. Belsches and his administrative assistants must be commended for their patience and fortitude which has lasted throughout the school year. They deserve our hearty thanks for a job well done.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT AIMS AT APPRECIATION

English, the only required four year subject taught at Madison, encompasses more than grammar, composition, and literature. Drama, speech, reading, and journalism are electives which come under the broad realm of our native tongue. From these varied courses the English Department hopes to provide enjoyment, as well as understanding, for the Madison student body. This year many English teachers departed from the traditional study of English – genre, or units – and explored a thematic approach to the language. In this new study, prose, poetry, and other facets of literature are discussed and analyzed for the ideas that they contain. Also, Madison is one of the few schools that has an Advanced Placement English course, which speaks well of our student body. Films and other audio-visual aids have augmented the already comprehensive English curriculum.

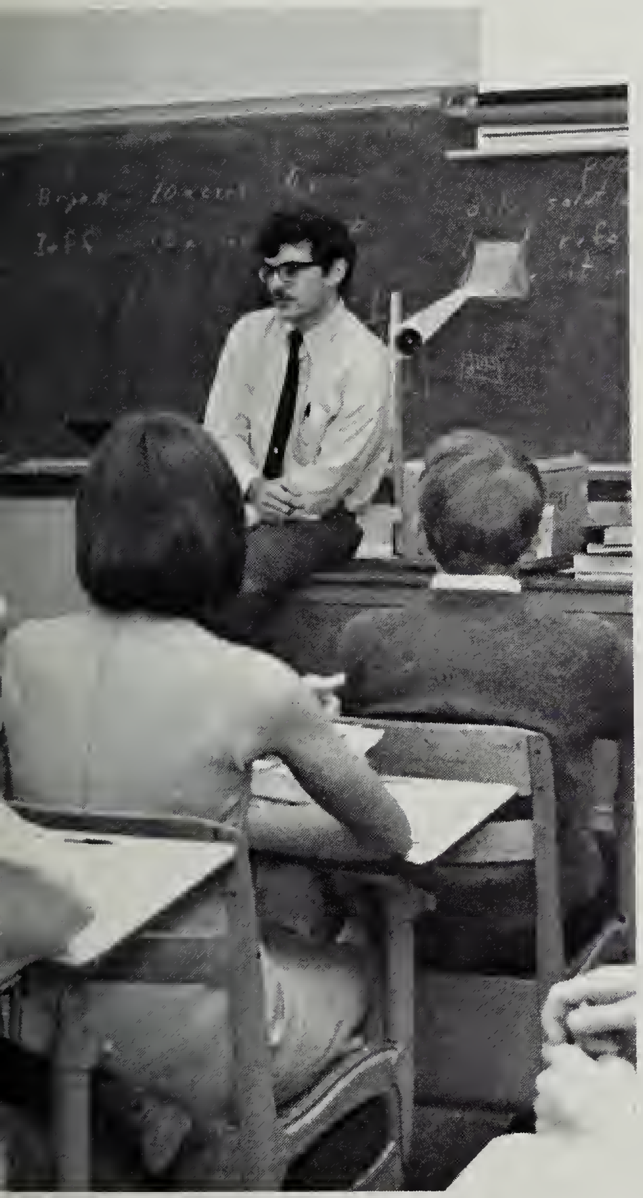
CONFRONTS PROBLEMS OF SOCIETY

"Social Studies is concerned with people as social beings – how they interact with other people individually and in groups," commented Mr. James T. Miller, Madison's efficient Social Studies Department Chairman. For as man is constantly in contact with dissension or opposition, in the form of misunderstandings, a retrospective view of man's history will give insight into current and future problems. It is for this reason, according to Mr. Miller, that "the Social Studies program gives increased attention to unsolved problems of society through the study of economics, sociology, anthropology, and psychology sprinkled throughout the varied courses which are offered."

Mr. Miller states that, "An attempt is made to accelerate students to think for themselves, and that the inquiry and discovery approach to social studies is being used." This method of study should make all students realize the importance of social studies – that they are a part of a world making history – now.



Student participation is emphasized in the social studies department, this year. Here, Mr. Nickle is leading a class discussion.

GYM DEPARTMENT PARALLELS PHYSICAL FITNESS PROGRAM.

Madison's Health and Physical Education program is devoted to improving the bodies as well as the minds of its students. Daily physical exercise keeps students in fit condition throughout the school year, and the knowledge gained from health classes and driver education classes is a valuable asset to our daily life. Some changes have been evident in the Health and Physical Education Department. Many students are participants in the new after-school bowling program. This program is a welcome addition to Madison's list of activities. Next year the driver education classes will be given only in the sophomore year. The department believes that, as the course will be given closer to the time at which students obtain their licenses, the students will receive more benefit from the program.

MATH TEACHERS ENCOURAGE

Mathematics is unquestionably one of the most important elements of Madison's curriculum. The student who does not possess an adequate foundation in some field of mathematics will have a difficult time competing in our increasingly mechanized world. Computer math and calculus are offered to the student who is motivated to explore the realm of more advanced mathematical concepts. However, much attention is also accorded to the average math courses: algebra, geometry, and trigonometry. Thus, general math and advanced math both have their niche in the educational process. When a student has a sound foundation in mathematics, he will discover that the principles which he has learned are applicable to other subjects and to everyday life. Logic, accounting, scientific formulas, and typing are all influenced by mathematics. Whether mathematics is studied for its pure essence, or whether it is studied in order to open doors to other fields such as architecture, engineering, or economics, the fact remains that mathematics forms a pertinent feature of our lives.

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT ENRICHES

There were several new developments in the Language Department this year. Madison welcomed four new language teachers into the faculty. Mr. Reitz teaches French, Mrs. Spence teaches Latin, and Mr. Canavan and Mr. Williams teach Spanish. For the first time the number of Spanish classes exceeded the number of French classes, and a combination Spanish IV and Spanish V class was instigated. This year is obviously "el año de los españoles". Although the language clubs were abolished, next year they will be combined to form a new Interlanguage Club. All language teachers placed special emphasis on studying the cultures, the current problems, and the histories of foreign countries. A student cannot possibly grasp the intrinsic value of a foreign nation solely from the study of grammar, vocabulary, or sentence structure of a language. It is necessary to coordinate a study of culture and of technicalities in order to present a valid picture of a country. The Language Department has successfully endorsed the above mentioned policy, and most students have benefitted from it.

BUSINESS DEPARTMENT TRAINS IN TECHNIQUES

Madison's Business Department gives students the opportunity to acquire skills in typing, shorthand, notehand, record keeping and bookkeeping. However, the department also desires that students learn the values of good business techniques. Punctuality, organization, accuracy, and neatness are essential factors which constitute successful business habits. This coming year the Business Department hopes to found a two hour course in which students may take shorthand and typing or bookkeeping and typing.

HOME ECONOMICS AND INDUSTRIAL ARTS

The Home Economics Department guides the budding oikologist in such areas as cooking, sewing, and child care; as well as the wise management of time, energy, and money. Home Economics courses may be elected for any or all of the four years at Madison. Senior Home Economics is offered to Senior girls wishing a general foundation in the subject, and Vocational Sewing is available to any girl desiring to continue sewing as an occupation.

The Industrial Arts program provides boys with the opportunity of exploring such fields as electronics, mechanical drawing, or maintenance and repairs. This learning experience develops the apptitudes which some boys have for the practical skills.

SPECIALS SERVICES WORK TO

Could a school exist without it's special services? Never! Our luncheon meals are prepared for us by the capable hands of the cafeteria workers; our health is checked by Mrs. Wenner, the school nurse; and Madison is kept neat and tidy under the supervision of Mr. Jones, the head custodian. Mrs. Hopkins keeps exact records for the finance department, and Miss Nicolay processes items on the I.B.M. machines. Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Overstreet provide special services for those students who need supplementary assistance. We are indeed indebted to these people who help to maintain efficiency in Madison.

Seniors

After four long-awaited years, the Senior Class of 1969 has attained its hard-earned goal; graduation. Through the helping hands of counselors, faculty, and students, Seniors made preparations for their futures in college, at work, in the Armed Forces, and in marriage. Pouring through college catalogs, submitting job and college applications, arranging interviews, taking college boards, and awaiting acceptance are all vital tasks that the 330 members of the Senior Class undertook throughout this final year.

Their lasting memories of Madison include that long line as over-anxious Juniors awaited class rings in the S.C.A. office, the last-minute rush for cut cards before a holiday, and in keeping with an election year, Seniors celebrated the election of the Homecoming Queen, Cabinet members, and club officers from their class. Seniors found part-time jobs at the newly-opened Tysons Corners, attended the culminating social event–the Prom–and joined in the traffic, crowds, smiles, and tears at the all-important event–Graduation at Constitution Hall.

Seniors feel a certain pride of distinction in all of these achievements, but also through the Magazine Drive and Cans for Christmas, they contributed to a sense of unity within the school. To this year's class, it is not the end; it is not even the beginning of the end. Seniors will leave with satisfaction in their hearts knowing they've left James Madison High School a better place for those who will follow–and, in effect, they have left a part of themselves.

Underclassman

The underclasses at Madison makeup about three-fourths of the school population. They also play an important role in the activities and daily life at the school. Freshmen came up with an original homecoming float. Sophomores showed overwhelming spirit throughout the year with their many activities. The Junior class sponsored the breakfast club which benefited the entire student body. With all three classes united, the pride and spirit at Madison made this year a truly successful one.

FRESHMAN

Carol Pickett, V-Pres.; Steve Briggs, Pres.; Marla Spriggs, Secretary; Jan Dixon, Treasurer

CLASS OF 72

The spirited class of '72 began its first year at Madison by electing class officers, councils, and representatives. After the class organized itself, it went on to win the Magazine Drive, defeating the other three classes.

This was a successful year for the Freshmen. They made money by many bake sales and other usual and some unusual ways.

JUNIORS

CLASS OF '70

The Junior Class of 70, under the capable leadership of Steve Smith kicked off the football season with a sock hop after the first home game. Tradition was carried on with a Sadie Hawkins Dance.

Money was raised for the Junior Class by class dinners and cards. Many arduous hours, hard work, and thought was put into planning the Junior–Senior Prom which was held at Madison. Junior Class counsels were selected from the individual history classes in an effort to strengthen class government.

THE JUNIORS EXHIBIT

The Junior Class showed how important unity can be to a class. Their unity showed up in their winning almost every drive and charity project this year. Working together the Junior class managed to make every one of their activities from Soc Hops, to the Breakfast Club, to the Prom, a great success.

Spirit is something the Class of '70 can boast of. There is such an overwhelming amount of it, that it radiates from the most active members of the class to infect all Juniors. If the Juniors can keep this up, next year's Seniors will be the best ever.

Sports

Moving hands, catching hands, fists doubled and clenched . . .these exemplify sports at Madison, symbolizing the high degree of vitality, competition, courage, showmanship, and strength. Hands were used in many ways and by many people during the past year. Not only the players' hands, but the hands of the coaches and those of the people in the stands contributed vitally to the performance of the teams. Sports promote enthusiasm and spirit not only among the teams, but in the student body as well, and serves to unite the school as a whole. The moments of expectant glory, and the let-down of defeat are also a part of the realm of sports. All these aspects of athletics are displayed in the following pages.

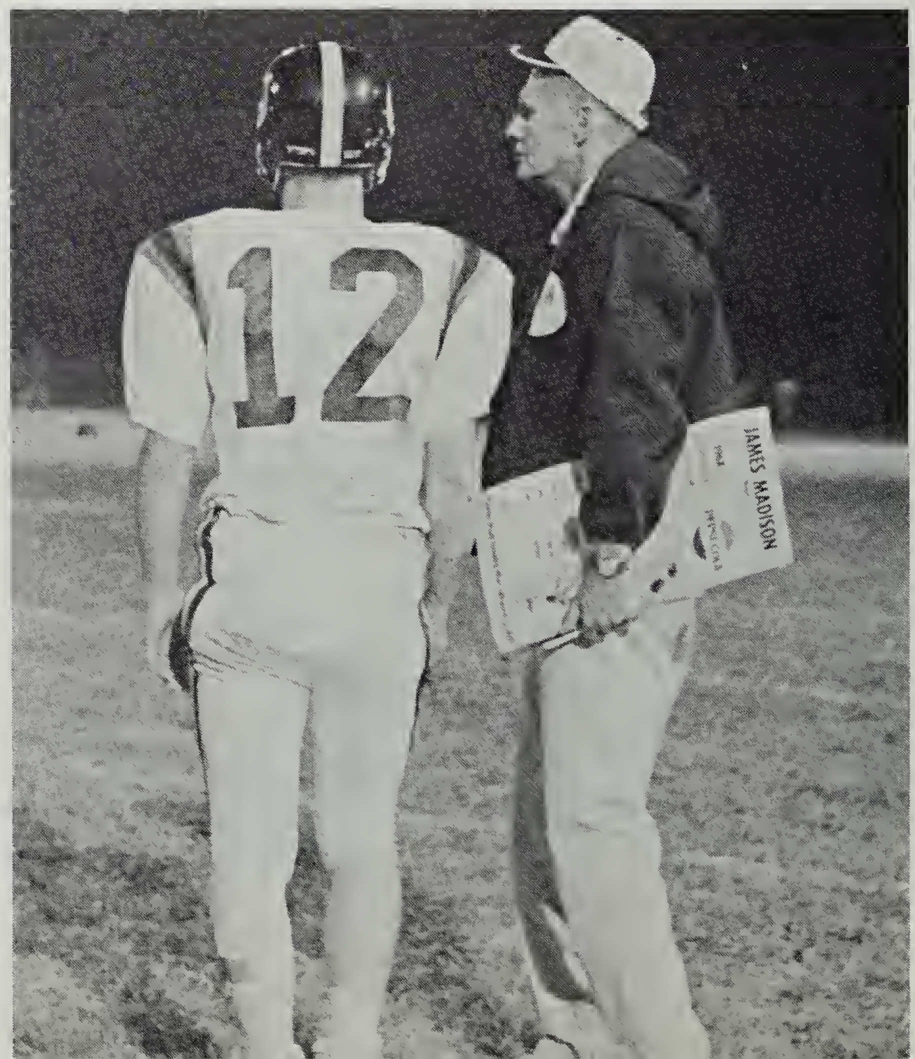
WARHAWKS TAKE DISTRICT CHAMPIONSHIP

The Varsity Warhawks finished their outstanding performance of the season by taking the Great Falls District Title. The team boasts a record of seven wins and three losses, topping off all but the amazing Annandale, Falls Church, and Fairfax. This year, the Jefferson Colonials were met by a strong defense, accounting for their uncompleted passes. Edison's Eagles were also beaten by a score of 28-0. The strong Highlanders were overpowered by our team with a 7 point lead. Needless to say, Coach Leskovar has commented brightly on both the defense's and offense's great jobs and the team's overall excellent playing.

Throughout the season, the team gave good reason for Madison's mounting pride in them. Beginning with Jefferson's game to the end, the Warhawks went on to score their way to triumph. The team members lent excitement, tension, and spirit to the school and added the thrill of glorious victory. Madison Warhawks deserve the recognition not only for the District Title, but for all the benefits they have given to the school and the hard work put into the season.

Coach Leskovar counsels John Sessions.



"R. J. Lynch gains needed yardage against opponents."

"Tom Staats stretches for a pass."

"The defensive squad stands pensively, watching the field."

"A brief rest is a relief after a tough practice. Craig Mueller, Doug Rose, and Rick McMahon relax."

J.V. WARHAWKS BUILD AGAINST ROUGH OPPOSITION

"Ed Berg stops the opposing team's advance."

"Ed Berg steadies himself as the J.V. get ready to play ball."

This year, the Junior Varsity Warhawks were hindered by the loss of ten sophomors to the Varsity. The team consisted of a meager twenty-two, of which two were Juniors. Although the J.V. began with what appeared to be a bad year, they made up for other things lacking by their determination and enthusiasm. Though the team had several bad breaks, the members kept up their hard work. They won over Oakton but lost all other seven. But in spite of all that was against them, the J.V. still maintained an amazing amount of spirit and sportsmanship in every game they encountered. Their interest in the game showed Madison the kind of admirable qualities everyone respects. All the players merit high praise for their conscienciousness, imporvement, and development. The coaches Chaudet and Glaze should not go unrewarded either because it was with their guidance that the J.V. kept a determined spirit.

FLEDGLING WARHAWKS SOAR OVER OPPONENTS

The Frosh Football seemed to have a favorite unit of measure. They had a lot of spirit, a lot of people at the games, a lot of team members, and a lot of victories. The coaches Weaver and Hannah spirited the Frosh to a 5 and 1 mark. Having won five games, the Freshmen have pulled off an excellent season. In the game against Herndon, our boys overwhelmingly beat the opponent, as in the game against Annandale. Based on these results, there seems to be a great deal of possibilities for the future years.

Dale Wytock was Madison's best runner and finished with excellent times in all of the meets. Winn Hamilton, Russ Smith, Ted Dinterman, and Malcolm Long were among the top members of the team. "The highlight of the season was provided by Dale Wytock when he was in the top ten at the Wakefield Invitational Meet.

Included among the team's daily workout schedule were a 2.4 mile regular cross country run, 880's and 440's, or a six-mile course. The usual number of miles at each practice ranged from 4 to 6 miles, giving a little insight on just how hard this team toiled in their efforts.

PUCKERS SHOW ENERGY

Although the scores seem to indicate a mediocre year, the figures do not show the hard fought games the Puckers played nor the enthusiasm and hard work the girls exhibited throughout the season. All the girls showed commendable spirit and eagerness and determination in their efforts at the games and practice. Mrs. Birch, the Varsity Hockey team's coach, and Mrs. Milbourn, the J.V. coach, both indicated their satisfaction with the results. It was not so much the scores but the teams as a whole that proved the Madison spirit once again.

New improvements were added to the teams. This year new uniforms were issued, consisting of the school colors, as shown. Peggy Grant, Charlotte Kane, and Monica Thompson enhanced the Junior Varsity with their year of experience, and helped bring about Mrs. Milbourn's statement that the team looked as good, if not better than any she had ever coached. The seniors who assisted the Varsity team were Marianne Barrett, Janet Burke, Pat Carol, and Karen Lewis. Elected by the Varsity Puckers, Brenda Leap was proclaimed the most valuable player and Mary Okon, the most improved.

BASKETBALL TEAM HAS GREATEST SEASON EVER

This year the James Madison basketball team showed that they were a team to reckon with. The Warhawks started the season off with a victory against Yorktown. This started the ball rolling for the best season any Madison basketball team has ever had. The team won five of its first six games, losing a close one to Woodson. The first six games were highlighted by Roger Hatcher's forty point performance against McLean, breaking a school record. This was the team record as it came upon the first big league game of the season against Marshall. Marshall was undefeated coming into the game which was played at Marshall. With the scoring of Roger Hatcher and Jimbo Thompson, the defense of André Polly and the press-breaking speed of Jimmy Garland, the Warhawks came home happy with a victory of 60 to 56 over Marshall. Madison won the next two games but lost to Jefferson in a close game. The Warhawks had to overcome the stall tactics in the next game to defeat Oakton 48 to 38. Madison, in probably their roughest game of the season so far, lost to Edison. The Warhawks rolled over Herndon and McLean in their warm up for their second meeting with Marshall. With the gym packed, Madison's superiority over shadowed the Statesmen and we were victorious again with a win of 53 to 49. Madison crushed Langley and Oakton in the final games of the season to finish with a regular season record of 15 and 3.

The Cagehawks entered the tournament as the team to beat in the number one position. They ran the Highlanders off the court in the first game. They now faced Marshall in the finals. Each team matched point to point until the fourth quarter when Marshall broke it open to win. With the pressure on Madison, they were forced into a special play-off game with Marshall. The Warhawks proved in this game why they were the number one tournament team. Now Madison was not only Great Falls District champs but they had the right to play in the Northern Regional Tournament. We entered the tournament as the underdog and 'the "patsies", as one of the papers put it. The first game was against Edison, who had beaten us badly during the regular season. In this game the Warhawks put on one of the best performances of the year. Stealing the ball and blocking the shots, Madison just out played Edison. Madison was now faced with the finals against Wakefield. Madison came to W-L that night, underdogs once again. They fought with everything they had only to be defeated in the last five seconds of the game with a final score of 61-59. Co-captains Roger Hatcher and André Polly were selected to the All-Tournament team. Hatcher was also named as one of Northern Virginia's five best.

J V BATTLES THROUGH TOUGH SEASON

The JV gained needed experience for the future varsity play. The team had rough competition this year and won only six games. However, they played well and were good representatives of James Madison. The team was also plagued by injuries. At one point in the season, so many boys were injured that a few boys from varsity had to be sent down to help out. The team was led by John Franklin, Tom Embrey and Steve Stacy.

UNDEFEATED FROSH HAVE BEST SEASON EVER

The Freshman basketball team went undefeated this year. They were coached by Coach McLean, who did a great job developing the boys into a well balanced team. The team this year had many outstanding players. Roger Neighborgall and Roger Carroll lead the team with Robby Carter, George Shihda, Tom Determan and Donny Stitt also providing outstanding play. These boys should prove to be great prospects for JV and varsity next year and in years to come. The effort, hustle and spirit displayed by these boys is a compliment to the whole school.

Coach Verciglio, surrounded by Grapplers, watches intently as a lone Grappler performs.

This year the Madison Grapplers finished with a most successful season. Proof of this is shown in their record of seven wins and three losses. Impressive victories were scored against Herndon, 41-14, and Hammond, 41-6.

The Grapplers this year were young as well as experienced. The seniors were very successful, lead by 175 pounder Roy Lynch, who was undefeated during the regular season and placed fifth in the state. Tom Whalen, a finalist in last year's state tournament was a standout in this year's district tournament. Middleweights Wally Frazer and Charlie Ostlund and Heavyweights Ted and Craig Mueller made fine showings.

Coach Verciglio, a one-time wrestler himself, again coached and trained this year's team. Hustle, hard work, and spirit were exceptionally well and this showed up greatly in the matches.

The newly formed freshman wrestling team was most successful. Both Coach Verciglio and Coach Davis instructed these eighth and ninth graders in the basic fundamentals. For a first year team, they were successful and should develop into fine J.V. and varsity grapplers in the years to come. These boys should be commended for their spirit and effort.

GIRLS' VARSITY BASKETBALL HAS WINNING SEASON

The girls basketball team had a good season this year with an 8 win and 4 loss record. They were coached by Miss Dean. Anna Mae Cook was the team's leading scorer. Babbs Armintrout also did a good job for the team with her rebounding as well as her scoring from inside. The team opened the season with a victory over Oakton and showed off the good times to come. In the next game they embarrassed Marshall 45 to 17. They then went on to win 6 of the next 10 for an 8 and 4 record. Senior Joann Dost should be commended for the tremendous lift she gave the team.

MADISON HOPEFUL OF GOOD SEASON

Madison's baseball team hopes to repeat last season's championship ways. The 1968 State Champs had many outstanding players returning. Roger Hatcher held down first base for the third year in a row and took up some of the pitching responsibility. Mike Wallace had the best Virginia 1A pitcher record (12-0) last year and was the head moundsman for the Warhawks. Jim Garland and Johnny Sessions provided some of the "big bat" for Madison this year.

Organizations

Hands of activity, hands of learning, hands of teaching, service and responsibilities. All these things go into a mode of service, responsibility, activity, learning and teaching, contained within Madison's many clubs. Self expression is obtained through active participation, providing a necessary outlet from the every day pressures. To widen one's outlook is part of our education and is a main feature in our organizations. If one can take a definite stand on his own beliefs, one cannot fail to be recognized in our student government. Originality was seen this year in the new activities within each club, from the S.C.A. to the "fun" clubs, it all goes for one purpose—acheivement.

SCA PROMOTES RESPONSIBILITY AT MADISON

The major aim of the Student Council Association is to promote opportunities to train its members as involved and responsible citizens. Self-government in the wrong hands can lead to unrest and disapproval among students, faculty, and administration. But under the discerning eye of Madison's impressive SCA officers, cabinet, representatives, councils, and the administration, your SCA has sought to provide for all forms of interest in the school. Madison's SCA is yours. You make it a success or a failure. And 1968–1969 has seen a completely new success, the best seen at Madison for many years.

Features

Of all the years James Madison High School has experienced, the school year of 1968-69 seems to be the epitome of spirit and success.

During this year James Madison has held many events, each one special in its own way. The Features Section captures each special event that has highlighted this prosperous and successful school year.

This outstanding year was made possible by the students working together—with their hands as well as their minds. Without the vim and vigor of each interested student such activities could not be possible.

Enthusiasm was carried throughout the year in such events as Homecoming, Cans for Christmas and March of Dimes. Madison High School is a flurry of activity, always busy planning for dances, plays, musicals and interclass competition. Only with teamwork were we able to implement new and different ideas such as the Sadie Hawkins Day Dance where Daisy Maes caught their L'il Abners. Remember those bright colored voo doo dolls, the decorated Christmas doors and those locker stickers?

There was not one week in the school year in which an activity was not taking place or being planned.

Mr. Shelton Belches, principal at Madison, talks to the Freshmen about various aspects of our school.

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION PREPARES INCOMING STUDENTS

An important event of every September is the Freshman Orientation. The chairmen of the program this year were Jo Ann Bailey and Louise Popovich. The goal of Orientation was to prepare the incoming Freshmen for their life at Madison. Touring the building and meeting their teachers were just two ways in which the class of '72 became acquainted with their new school.

The students were also introduced to the administration as well as S.C.A. officers. It was hoped that the program would start the Freshmen off with the proper attitude necessary in high school.

Randy Brown, S.C.A. president is introduced to the class of 1972.

"IT'S ACADEMIC" TEAM LOSES IN FINAL SECONDS

Madison's 1968-69 "It's Academic" Team consisted of Jim McGraw, Ross Bott and Richard Barnard. The televised show was the premier of the program's season. The team of John F. Kennedy High School proved too much for the Hawks as they lost in the final seconds with the score Madison 270, John F. Kennedy 300, and South Hagerstown 140.

The team was presented with a one hundred dollar prize from the Giant Food Company.

Among the staff found in the old library are psychologists—Mrs. Adcock and Mr. Lyons.

The Miser deals with an elderly miser, Harpagon, played by Joe Cotton, and his attempt to marry a young maiden, Mariane, played by Betty Rice. His intentions are twisted as Mariane falls in love with his son, Cleante, played by Bruce Steele.

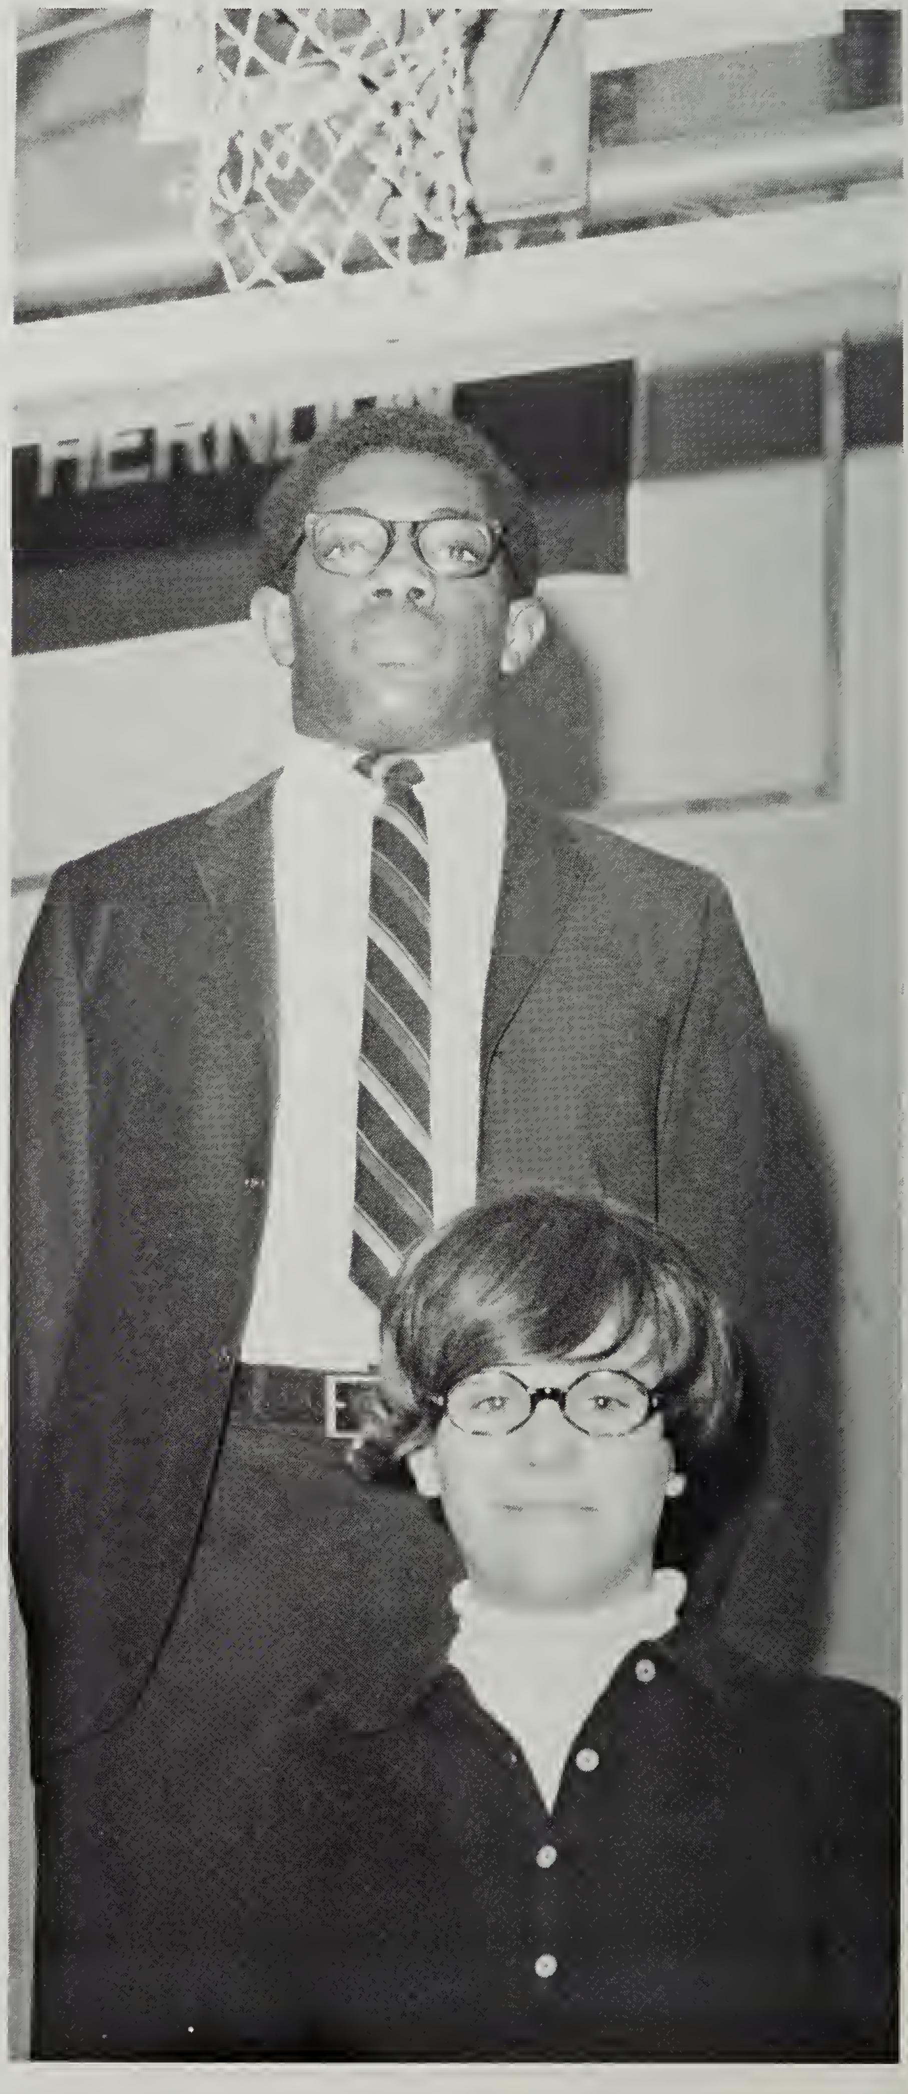
Jo Ann Dost lettered four times as a member of the girls varsity basketball team. Named "Most Valuable Player" in her sophomore and junior years, Jo Ann's spirit led the girls on to victorious seasons.



BEST PERSONALITY

A well liked senior at Madison, Jim Garland was chosen as Best Personality. Jimmy who feels he "mixes with people easily" added a lot to the Class of '69, not only as a student, but as an athlete. Three baseball letters and the title of "All Great Falls District Shortstop" are only a few of his merits.

Janet Smith, a vivacious always smiling cheerleader, was also chosen for Best Personality. She enjoys "being with people and having fun." Through cheerleading and other activities, Janet's spirit and personality have clearly been shown.

BEST ALL AROUND

R. J. Lynch, selected by the senior class as best all around, has been involved in various extra curricular activities through high school. An outstanding athlete, R. J. has received much recognition both in football (voted all-district in 1967 and 1968) and in wrestling. Other activities he was affiliated with was Madison and Varsity clubs.

As an appointee to West Point, recipient of the Optimist Award, and a member of the National Honor Society, the class choice was no mistake. An outstanding student and athlete, Randy also received the West Point Society Award for football and academics as a junior and senior.

Randy's counterpart was Mary Lou Drayer. Mary Lou illustrated well the qualities of leadership in such activities as safety and youth councils, S.C.A. cabinet, Varsity co-captain, secretary of her sophomore class, and president of her junior class.

CONGRATULATIONS: YOU ARE NOW ENTERING THE COMPUTER AGE OF 1969

And If Your Education Stops Now It Will Pass-You-By

"Our greatest need in the future will be for information middlemen" . . . who perform the tasks of information collection, processing, analysis, and distribution; who design the various new applications; and who serve as the interpreters of the needs of the physician, the teacher, the lawyer, and the businessman.

"For tens of thousands of years, man's speed of travel was limited to the speed of a running horse. With the advent of the steam engine, the jet engine and the rocket engine—in one century we have witnessed the man on horseback conquer space.

Perhaps more dramatic has been the development of the computer. There was no computer industry two decades ago. Today, experts predict that at the present rate of growth, the computer industry will soon surpass the auto industry as the nation's largest.

One of the main facets of the computer industry is PEOPLEWARE. It is this area that will determine the future growth of the industry. The present shortage of adequately trained people is already hampering the growth of the industry.
